Newsletter 40th
June 2019 Year

Welcome to the 2019 ANAWBS

2019 marks the 40th year of the Australian National Amateur Wine and Beer Show (ANAWBS) and it is quite an incredible achievement for the two Host Clubs. Forty years ago, two very young Clubs came together to host the first show in McLaren Vale and from this very small root, it has grown to blossom in status, numbers and quality. The Adelaide and Blackwood Wine and Beer Clubs must be congratulated, and thanked, for having the foresight, belief and dedication to initiate and continue to host this Show.

The founders of this Show would be so pleased to see the growth, diversity and standard of the entries, its recognition as an important Show for amateurs and the quality of the judging that has been so vital in mentoring the entrants and giving them direction of ways to improve. Over the 40 years we have moved venues from the Hall in McLaren Vale to Regency TAFE and now the Waite Campus of The University of Adelaide.

Such a Show is dependent on an outstanding and committed Committee over the past 40 years and we owe a great debt of gratitude to the present and past members for their conscientious and hard working efforts to make each Show a success.

For the long continuance of the Show, it has relied upon the support of yourselves and past entrants. You have believed in the Show, have entered in growing numbers, and shown that you are passionate about wine and beer making, keen to have your wines/beers judged and seeking ways to have it recognised and be improved.

This year, the Show will again be held at the Waite Campus in late September; the dates are within this Newsletter. Planning is well advanced and we hope that you will continue to regularly visit the Website, Facebook and Twitter for updates. All the dates, entry process, costs etc are on the ANAWBS website. We encourage you again to support ANAWBS, encourage friends and other amateur wine and beer makers to consider entering the Show and we know that 2019 will be a wonderful success for the 40th Year of ANAWBS.

BJCP

The ANAWBS beer competition is now a BJCP sanctioned competition. The Beer Judge Certification Program or BJCP is a non-profit organization formed in 1985 in America "to promote beer literacy and the appreciation of real beer, and to recognize beer tasting and evaluation skills." It has been described in the press as a "hands-on ... study program designed to teach aspiring beer enthusiasts about the essence of any kind of beer". The BJCP certifies and ranks beer judges through an examination and monitoring process.
